WINNIPEG, Nov. 4.

Sandford Fleming has been advised that the twenty-four hour system will be adopted in Japan on the first day of January.

Lord Craven, an Imperial Conservative, is in Ottawa, and states that Ireland will have home rule as soon as the people are anxious to settle the nuisance, as he calls the Irish question.

Col. Cameron, an in-law of Sir Chas. Tupper, is mentioned as Gen. Middleton's successor in command of the Canadian militia.

Sir Fred went on the Imperial retired list yesterday, and is anxious to remain in Canada. His friends want to keep him on permanently.

Judge Taylor's commission as Chief Justice of Manitoba, was issued on the 2nd.

O'Brien and Madeville, Irish Nationalists, were taken to Tullibagh jail by special train. The main object for the removal of O'Brien was said to be to prevent the Lord Mayor of Dublin, who is warm friend, paying him daily visits to Brixton while he was in, in all probability, the prison garb and eat prison fare.

Only a pardon from the State Governor can now save the Chicago anarchist.

The Red River Valley Railway is again in the slough. A delegation of Winnipeg citizens appointed to meet the contractors and arrange necessary conditions for the completion of the road had a conference and failed to agree, and now efforts are being made for another arrangement.

In the Northwest Council a large number of petitions has been received, amongst which is one from Baptiste Muske and others of Prince Albert, praying that a highway be constructed in that district. The Governor said this matter was within his own jurisdiction, and he would have it done.

A bill providing for the registration of druggists has been introduced, and the report of the Board of Education has been laid on the table.

the Government for enforcing the Crimes Act and is championing the Irish cause with great zeal, even going so far as to attack the policemen who are engaged doing the duty set them to do. But despite Mr. Gladstone's vigorous denunciations the Government seems determined to continue in the line it has marked out for itself, the purpose of which is to decide whether Ireland is to be ruled by the Executive or the National League. Whatever people's opinion on the abstract question of home rule may be, there should be no difference of opinion in regard to the duty of the Executive to enforce the laws passed by parliament for the express purpose of governing the Green Isle. Mr. Gladstone describes the present system of Irish Government by the word "impertinence," which he declares to be the only one by which it can be described. No doubt every law on the statute book is looked upon as an impertinence by those who suffer from its operation, but as the laws affecting Ireland were passed by the same authority as the laws affecting England or Scotland, it is hard to see where the impertinence comes in. With Mr. Gladstone pushing the Nationalists forward and the Government driving them back, it is not at all surprising that occasional collisions should take place. There are those who are looking forward with no little apprehension to seeing something much more serious occur.

The Toronto Telegram says that in declaring that Canada could only have commercial union with the United States at the cost of separation from Great Britain, Mr. Chamberlain evidently not only said what he meant but meant what he said. As he pointed out, the arrangement between the colonies and the mother country is only a temporary one and cannot remain as it is; either it will be strengthened by ties of federation or be loosened altogether. Until it is loosened altogether Canada cannot be permitted to make a trade arrangement with the United States of the character proposed, for "it is impossible that Great Britain should retain all the responsibilities and obligations of the colonial connection when all the advantages are taken away." From the British point of view this seems fair enough. In the event of Canada becoming involved in difficulty with any other country Britain would be looked to for protection. The only nation that Canada could possibly have trouble with is the United States. It would be asking a good deal at the hands of Britain for Canada to expect her to take up the cudgels on her behalf after entering into a bargain with the United States to shut the door against British goods coming to this continent. It is clear from this statement by Mr. Chamberlain that when Sir John Macdonald pronounced against commercial union, which he is sure to do, he will have the British Government at his back, and will thus be able to hold to hold the fort and keep the old flag flying. The question now arises as the commercial unionists prepared to raise the cry of Canadian independence?

ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING.

ELECTION OF TRUSTEES, ETC.

The annual school meeting of School District No. 3 was held on Tuesday last in the new school building.

The various reports were read and adopted, when the election for trustees took place.

The following were nominated:—
J. F. Betts, J. M. Campbell, T. O. Davis, J. L. Johnson, John Stewart, James MacArthur and W. J. Carter. Messrs. Stewart, Johnson and MacArthur declined, and a poll being demanded, the vote at 4 p.m. stood:

J. M. Campbell ..... 38
J. F. Betts ..... 36
T. O. Davis ..... 34
W. J. Carter ..... 27

Thus the Board of Trustees for the current year will be Messrs. Campbell, Betts and Davis. While congratulating those gentlemen upon the honor conferred upon them, we would remind them that they have a very important position to fill. The sustaining of an efficient public school is one of the greatest boons that can be conferred upon any community, and it is to be hoped the same deep interest that has been taken in the school by the old Board of Trustees will not lessen in those who have been appointed to fill their positions.

The old Board of Trustees deserves the hearty thanks of every citizen for the excellence to which the school has attained under their management, and more particularly for the very handsome building they have left as a monument of their term of office.

GENERAL NEWS.

No change in the Northwest or Manitoba governments will be made until next May at the earliest, as the Government realizes the inconvenience of the present incumbents removing at such an unpleasant season of the year.

A successor to Lieut. Gov. Dewdney as Indian Commissioner has not been considered.

Alex. Begg has left for Scotland to promote crofter emigration to the Pacific coast.

Sixteen of the riflemen who won first places have already agreed to go to Wimbeldon.

Hon. Wm. McDougall will probably address the inter-provincial conference now being held.

The Department of Justice is seeking the extradition of W. K. Herres, now in custody in St. Paul, Minn., for forgery at Berlin, Ont.

It is understood that J. B. Rolland, paper manufacturer, of Montreal, will be appointed to succeed the late Mr. Senecal in the Senate.

Sir Charles Tupper is busily engaged in arranging his work for the fisheries commission.

The order to move the contingents from A and B batteries to British Columbia, and who will form C battery, will probably be promulgated this week. The vacancies thus caused in A and B batteries will be filled as soon as possible; in fact, the necessary number of men are now being enlisted for the period of three years.

The greater part of a day was taken up at the provincial conference in the discussion of the disallowance question. Messrs. Noyes and Hamilton of Manitoba delivered elaborate addresses on the disallowance of Manitoba railways. A general discussion followed this and other kindred questions. No resolutions as yet have been adopted.

Two hundred medical students started on a rampage in Montreal, and attempted to sack a police station where they thought one of their number was imprisoned. When accused he was out there they marched away to another station, where they rescued him. The police were powerless.

The schooner Col, belonging to Buffalo, went ashore near Port Burwell, and is a total wreck. The captain and mate were rescued. The cook, a woman, was lashed to the mast and perished.

Hon. Mr. McLellan is making a rattling campaign in Colchester. His triumph is certain. Ex Premier Pilon was nominated, but he declined to lend assent to the unpatriotic endeavors to defeat Canada's representative on the fishery commission.

The Montreal Witness expresses regret that the Red River road has been handed to private hands, but believes the time will come when the Government will have to take control of it.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Several thousand unemployed men marched in a body from Trafalgar square to Westminster Abbey this afternoon. The leader carried a red flag. Twelve hundred of them were admitted without opposition. The red flag was left in charge of the vergers. Many kept their hats on, whistled and sat upon the pedestals of the statues. Others mixed with the regular audience but the greater portion of the latter departed as soon as possible, leaving the strangers almost sole possession. The unwelcome visitors offered no violence, but showed disregard for the place by indiscriminate conversation, tobacco chewing, opium expectorating, etc. During the first lesson they grew bolder and loudly jeered the reader, drowning his voice. This conduct was repeated at this second lesson.
